

The DSE Championships    Warwick 7 – 8 July 2012

The Indoor tennis center at Warwick University prove an excellent venue for the 2012 DSE championships. Despite the lack of elite players who are preparing for the Paralympic Games at the end of August, the entry was good with squads from Scotland and Wales taking part. The quality of play was very high and there were very many exciting matches for the spectators to enjoy.

Ashley Davis (Wales) showed his continued improvement by beating Shaun Newcomb in the final of the Wheelchair Open. Ashley was a triple champion , also winning the class 1-3 singles and partnering Shaun to take the wheelchair doubles. Adam Thompson (North West) was in great form and beat Paul Waumsley (South East) in the final of the Mens Standing Open to record his first Open Championships win.

It was very encouraging to see the depth of talent emerging from the grass roots and the progress they have made over the past year. The standard of our young players from England, Scotland and Wales continues to improve and impress. Each tournament seems to discover new potential – this time it was Billy Shilton from Gloucestershire and Alice Murray from Norfolk.

The player of the tournament was awarded to Martin Perry from Scotland.
